

ICE's Map of Lower Manhattan

Brookfield Place is a vibrant center for culture, commerce and education in Lower Manhattan. Formerly known as the World Financial Center, the complex is located across the street from the new One World Trade Center. The building has four towers, and each tower has a different address. ICE is located in the 225 Liberty Street tower on the 3rd Floor.

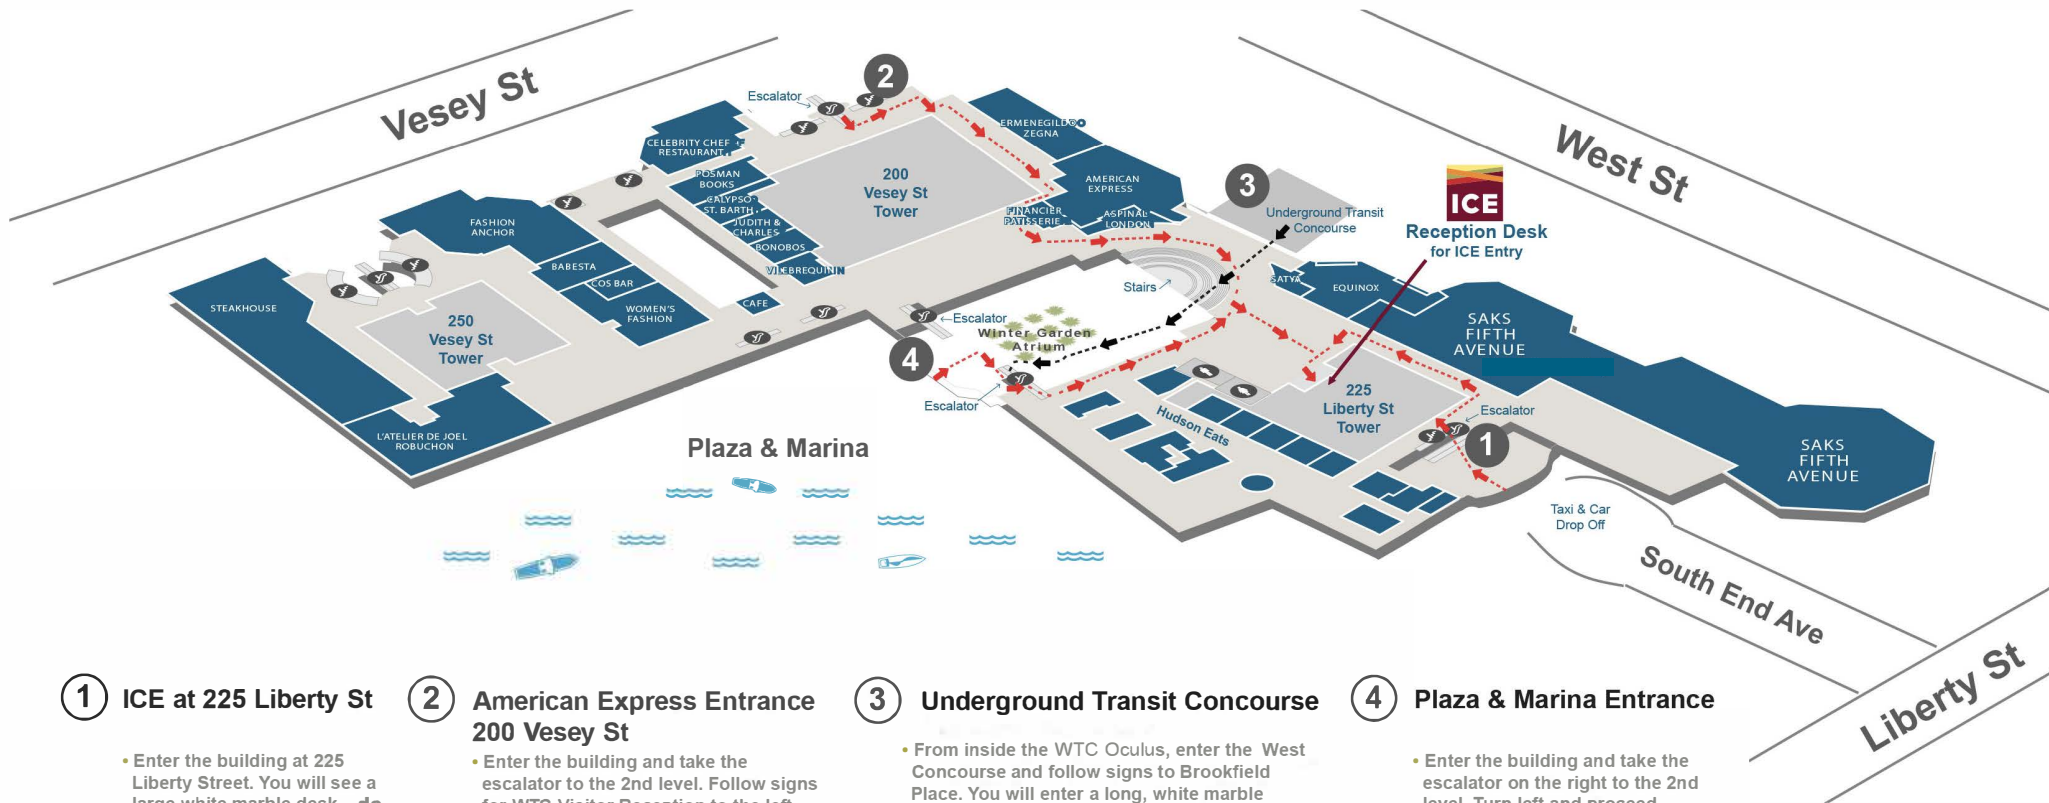

One of the many benefits of ICE's new location is the wide variety of public transportation options. Below, you will find a map detailing recommended walking routes from nearby transit to Brookfield Place.

- Parking
- Ferry
- PATH Station

ICE's Map of Brookfield Place - 2nd Floor

ICE is accessible by four entrances at Brookfield Place: 225 Liberty Street, 200 Vesey Street, underground access via the Underground Transit Concourse from the World Trade Center Path Station, and a Hudson River-facing pedestrian entrance. Once inside the complex, ICE is located on the 3rd Floor, accessible by the 225 Liberty Street elevator bank. Below, you will find directions from each of these entrances to the check-in desk for entry to ICE's facilities.
